We hold our classes at the Holland staff club- the top floor is a bar for Imperial college staff. The club can be difficult to find, as it is around the back of the Imperial College site in South Kensington. Below is a map, with your route marked in black.

The easiest option is to take the tube to South Kensington and turn right to exit the station. Go up Exhibition Rd until you pass the Science Museum and a tube/subway exit.

Turn left into the Imperial College site and walk straight ahead, passing Queen's Lawn and the Library/ study area with wide glass panes (when you are past the Library you will be facing a gated entrance leading to a car park up ahead).

Turn right to walk up a side road and turn right again the end of the road. Immediately to your right will be a white double door with a neonsign "Youngs" above it. Enter, go down a ramp and you'll come to a bar, where you can ask for The Beskydy Dancers. They'll direct you to our hall.

We look forward to seeing you there!
